

Child Health Information Service

Child Health Information Departments are NHS services responsible for keeping some basic information about children's health such as vaccinations they have been given. This is to help health professionals like GPs make sure children get their vaccinations on time.

Information about your child's vaccinations will be sent securely and electronically to the Child Health Information Department from your GP Practice

If you have any questions please speak to your GP